

Malcolm Larri / Leadership and Culture Transformation Consultant.

Originally from Sydney Australia, Malcolm Larri is an in-demand Coach and Speaker focused on empowering companies and individuals to use their unique abilities to drive positive change. He is a Master Practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP) and his almost 25-year career as coach and speaker has seen him conducting workshops & master classes in Australia, Europe, and Asia. As an in-demand consultant on Self-leadership, Diversity, Collaboration and Culture Transformation he is regularly training & coaching teams from some of the largest companies in the Nordics, including Ericsson, Skanska & Deloitte The Swedish Police Force to name just a few. He is also the founder of Brave Personal Development and will publish his first book Hustle & Serve in 2018.

Hustle & Serve – The Art of Leadership & Creating Powerful Workplace.

Cultures Every company in 2019 is looking for a competitive edge by transcending its leadership challenges and creating employee cultures that are magnets for talent. During this energetic session, Leadership and Culture Consultant Malcolm Larri will reveal the true difference between management and leadership, and how to develop a powerful and impactful leadership style. You will also learn how to close the gap between the “back of house culture” and the customer facing experience, to achieve an integrated and powerful service culture people love to work in. You will take away lots of Ah-ha! moments and understand clearly what you as an individual can contribute to your teams for next level results.